DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Add On Course: Gender and Law (2022)

Introduction of the Course:

The prime objective of this add - on course of Gender and law is to sensitize the general awareness among the students on Gender issues. In view of the fact that by introducing this course will equip the students about various problems of women in India.. Such as add -on course in the rural based college ,the perception that exists within men in the society towards women folk leading to discrimination disparity, biasness, lack of awareness of issues of women and legal protection available to them. In the present era of technological advancements in the society, this mind set of the male folk needs to be wiped out to establish equality, a balance in between the men and women for all round development of each individual to become a good citizen to engage themselves in nation building agenda.

MISSION

Our vision can be achieved by constantly working to change the discriminatory laws and the discrimination embedded in society and culture. We work on creating institutions and bringing resources to promote the rights of marginalized groups, looking into the cross-cutting effects of laws, and understanding intersectionality. This can be achieved through the implementation of international human rights instruments, Legal Protection and by reforming the structures that deny marginalized groups' access to development. Our mission is to empower the marginalized and aid in overall development.

VISION

Forum for Women, Law and Development envisions a world where human rights are fully realized where social injustice and discrimination are eradicated, and where equality prevails.

Objectives:

- The major objectives of Gender and Law course to provide basic legal awareness, and constitutional right of women and social issues of women in India.. The major focus will be to study the role of judiciary in the upliftment of the disadvantaged genders of society and disseminate gender – based information to the concerned stakeholders and to develop the capacity building programs related to empowering the disadvantaged genders.
- Gender awareness raising aims to promote and encourage a general understanding of gender-related challenges, for instance, violence against women and the gender pay gap. It also aims to show how values and norms influence our reality, reinforce stereotypes and support the structures that produce inequalities
- The aim of the studies in gender law is more particularly, in a precocious way, for the student to explore the potentialities and limits of juridical equality and to discern how and why juridical equality differs from more theoretical notions on equality. This involves looking at notions such as "gender mainstreaming" (an integrated approach of the dimension of equality in all political, economic and social domains) and their implications in terms of evaluation and legislative proposals etc. In addition, its specific goal is a fully transversal dimension of equality which transcends the inequalities between all social groups: the equality of men and women. The "Gender Law" course aims to provide awareness among students about various legal measures available in India.

Course Outcome:

- This programme will investigate the various aspects of gender and law in the Indian context by engaging with the foundations of core themes such as understanding the Indian legal system; differences between sex and gender law; equality and discrimination in

Eligibility

- Course is open to all students.
- Classes for an Add-On Course are conducted during the Reserved Time Slot in week days or beyond the regular class hours.

Evaluation:

- The registered students will be evaluated through Assignment / field survey (20 Marks). At the end of the course an examination (MCQ) of one-hour duration which will carry 30 marks.

Qualifying Marks:

- Students require to complete the course with 75 % attendance
- Students are required to obtain overall 40% of full marks for awarding the course.
